ROBERT POSTMA

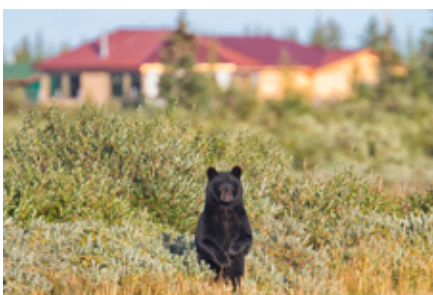

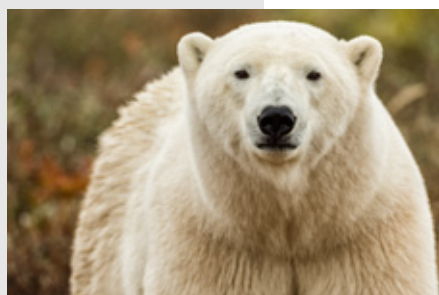

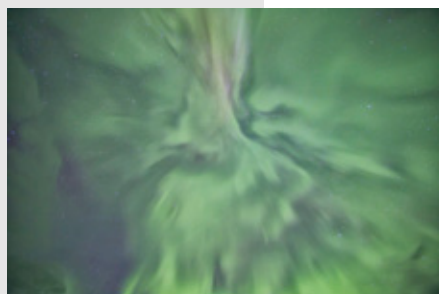

Robert's love affair with photography began at a very early age. He has traveled the world, honing his skills in Iceland, Bolivia and all over North America but considers Churchill and the Hudson Bay area to be among his favorite destinations for photography. His photos have been published in calendars, books, travel guides and magazines and have won numerous awards.

Robert travels the globe in the hopes of finding and capturing the indescribable moments that nature gives us so that he can share them through his art. To him, there is nothing better than standing in front of an approaching storm or beneath a blanket of northern lights.

For nearly six years, Robert has been visiting our Lodges and becoming acquainted with the wildlife and landscapes. The knowledge and experience he's amassed over the seasons make him a valuable addition to any group.

Robert's relaxed and friendly teaching style will put you at ease and give you the confidence to go after those once-in-a-lifetime photo opportunities.
